Gain invaluable access to the most relevant business information and networks

SweCham members and partners obtain direct access to a network of highly progressive companies from a wide range of sectors and industries. Through SweCham's collaboration with the Royal Thai Government and local authorities, as well as with business associations and trade organisations, such as the Joint Foreign Chambers of Commerce and European Association for Business and Commerce, SweCham provides invaluable access to the most relevant business information, advocacy groups, key decision brokers and government officials.

Make your voice heard and gain opportunities to promote and grow your business

SweCham is fully self-funded meaning that members' fees directly support the Chamber and the variety of events and activities organised by it. This means that SweCham is dedicated to serving the needs and interests of its members. Throughout the year, SweCham organises events according to topics that matters to our members - gathering key decision-makers, experts and business professionals in order to facilitate meaningful exchange, and improve the business climate. Join SweCham to make your voice heard, while gaining a unique opportunity to promote and grow your business. For more information about previous SweCham events, please visit our event recaps.
